Nottingham.

Dear Russell Gebbet,

I was indeed glad to receive your letter with all the news of the projected Catala n activities. I am afraid I am rather a bogus Catalanist as my knowledge of the language is entirely literary, but if your Society does not mind my coming in on those terms, I am happy to be a member. It is indeed noble of you to put in so much work to keep Catala n studies flourishing in this country. I hope that I may be present at the second conference. Our lectures here finish about the 20th May, so that some free time after that date is likely. In any case I should be grateful if you could keep me informed. I am afraid that I am not much of a hand at reading papers, but should there be something useful that I could say, I will let you know. Many thanks for asking me.

It was very good indeed to meet Alan King. He is extremely good company and I look forward to seeing a lot of him.

Do let me know if you are at any time in or near Bristol. You will always find a warm welcome at the University.

With all good wishes,
Yours sincerely,

John C. J. Metford
