Dear Professor Tate,

A friend showed me your letter in 'The Times' of June 17th, with the suggestion that perhaps you might be able to help me.

I am, in a small way, a singer, & I have some songs by the Catalan composer Federico Mompou. I have not, so far, been able to find anyone who can tell me the correct pronunciation of the words. I could sing them in Spanish, but I would prefer to sing the songs in the original language.

I had thought of asking the Spanish Institute here if they could help, but in the circumstances perhaps it might not be such a good idea.

As the Telephone Directory lists no Anglo-Catalan Society I venture to ask you if you could tell me of anyone in London who might help me? There are only 3 songs, so it would not be very much.

I hope this will not be too much bother to you.

Yours sincerely

Helen Latham.
