Dear Sir,

I thank you for your letter of 19th May, in which you tell me that you have booked your private room for the Anglo-Catalan Society on 29th September of this year, - that is, pending my confirmation.

I have to say that the charge of 9/6d. per head is quite acceptable, and that the Society is grateful to your co-operation in allowing the members wishing to attend to send you a card direct.

However, I myself appear to have made a stupid mistake in the actual date, and I have been delaying my writing until such time as I could find out from the scattered members of the Committee exactly which of two possible dates was the more feasible for them. I have at last been able to ascertain that no one has any very strong preference as between Sept. 24th and October 1st, and I know that Dr. Batista i Roca has had a word with you about this. I feel that October 1st is possibly a little late for some of our members, and so I would ask you to book the room for us for Saturday Sept. 24th; if this is not now possible then we will be satisfied with the later date. I would be grateful if you would confirm this arrangement, so that the members can then be circularized.

I am sorry both about the mistake in the date and the subsequent delay in rectifying it, and I hope you will not have been put to overmuch inconvenience by this.

Yours faithfully,

P. Russell-Gebbett,
Anglo-Catalan Society.
