

Anglo-Catalan Society

58 Hurst Lane
Cumnor
Oxford

12 December 1972

Dear Alan,

Many thanks for your letter of Nov. 30th, and for your nice words. We also enjoyed having you ~~fall~~. We shall have to find another excuse to repeat it!

The winner of the Jocs Florals, Brussels 1971~~u~~, was Eduard Feliu i Mabrés, for a translation of Ted Hughes' "Gog". That of the Geneva ~~XX~~ 1972 Jocs was Josep Palau Camps (don't know the text of the translation yet).

Don't know many of the addresses, but here are some:

A. B. Hibbert	John H. Harvey	Rev.P. Miquel Batllori, S.I.
King's College	Half Moon Cottage	Borgo S. Spirito, 5
Cambridge	Little Bookham	ROMA
	Leatherhead, Surrey

Prof. Josephine de Boer
310 Pittsboro Street
CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (U.S.A.)

Sapon moved University, and I don't know his present whereabouts.

The Scholarship thing could be sent to the Barcelona people you already mention, and to Francesc de B. Moll, Torre de l'Amor, 6 (what a glorious address!), Palma de Mallorca. And to Joan Fuster, Sueca, València.

Both Elizabeth and myself wish you and your family a very happy Christmas. Bon Nadal!

Ben cordialment,

Joan

Serge ✓
Molas ✓
Alu ✓
Sant'or
Baha ✓