Dear Paul,

A line in haste, to tell you : (a) that Joan Gili won't be coming over by car after all, and so I'm afraid we won't be able to have the benefit of his screen & projector—which are too unwieldy to bring by train ; & (b) that in order to save time I'm writing by the same post to Batista, to tell him about this, so that they can get down to chasing the requisite stuff in Cambridge. I've no idea whether Batista can be expected to take action, but I didn't know who else to write to myself.

I'm awfully sorry about this hitch, but it shouldn't be <sup>too</sup> hard to sort things out in Cambridge - after all, all one needs is the ~~usual~~ kind of projector people use for showing colour-transparencies to their friends.

And now I must get back to writing my paper !

A reveure,
