Dear Sir,

I am writing to you as a member of the Anglo-Catalan Society, which I joined because I am doing doctoral research on nationalist movements in Catalonia and Scotland and interested in related cultural activities and research going on in the United Kingdom.

I have since been in Barcelona to do some fieldwork and on this occasion been able to apply successfully for a three-month studentship to do further research into the cultural aspects of Catalan nationalism. You might be informed about these five studentships which the Generalitat has set up for non-Spanish citizens, and which are administered by the "Institut d'Estudis Catalans".

Since I am aware of the seminars which the Society has organised in the past I wonder whether the members would like me to report about the topic which I am researching, and/or whether it would be possible to publish some of the findings through the Society.

I am leaving for Barcelona on January 17th and returning in mid-April. If you wish to contact me in the meantime, please use the address below:

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

Susanne Schech
