Dear Russell-Jebbett

People are still making flattering comments on our Conference & the J.F.
We all feel that much of the success is owed to your work & your devotion to the A.C.S.

Prof. Pierre Vilar's address is 1 Boulevard Morland, Paris. I had been wondering whether we could ask Mrs Lindsay (Girton), who also specialises in XVIII century Spanish history, if she thinks that some English review on economic history would like to publish Vilar's paper. That means passing the paper to her, & now that exams will soon be over would be a suitable moment for it. Perhaps we could try this before returning the paper. I can approach her if you could let me have the paper.

Also if you could send me a resume of the papers of the Oxford Conference, I shall try to write something on the activities of the A.C.S. for Vida Nova. I have already translated most of Frank Pierce's inaugural lecture on the revision of "Hispanism", so I may attempt this additional job for V. N.

I shall be sending you a list of people interested in Provençal studies in British Universities. Perhaps we may find a way of inviting them to join our Society.

There is another group of people it may be useful to discover: cultured people, outside the strictly academic world, who may be interested in Catalan art, letters, life... But how to find them out? Gili may have suggestions, - or a letter to The Times?

With best wishes

J. B. Balistrari Roca
