Dear Paul,

I've just been looking — in vain — for the letter you sent me a day or so ago. I can't make out what's happened to it, and can only answer from my vague recollections of what was in it.

The Cuban business is off, I'm afraid, and I share your desengano about the whole thing — this is no stage in the year to embark on new and ambitious projects.

You were kind enough to suggest I should come down to Nottingham, but I don't remember when. I'm free more or less any time — we finished all our marking today, with Manson as external. Tuesday to Thursday next week seem to be booked up, but all other times are free, I think.

I should very much like to see you and Nottingham. Let me know - again! - when suits you.

I have no note of the proposed dates for the Catalan lunch or the Joés Florals. I seem to remember that we decided on the last Saturday in September (with the next week, first in October, as a possible alternative) for the first & some time in May for the second. Sorry not to be more helpful.

I wish you luck with the RFE.

Regards to Stagg,
A una forta encàixada,

Joef.

I'm glad the report of the Conference is on the way.
