Dear Brian,

Just a very brief note about Batllori. I saw him yesterday, and he is almost (!) certain he can make it. He will not be able to confirm it until after 9th, as the Director of the Institutum Historicum, Father Dalmases, is away just now and Batllori has to coordinate his own movements with him, so that they are not both away at the same time. Dalmases will be back, as I said, on 9th May, and immediately thereafter Batllori will write to you.

He is hoping, of course, to attend both the International Congress and the A.-C.S. Frank and Parker have asked him to give one of the Plenary lectures at the Congress, as you no doubt know, and he had just written to Frank yesterday explaining why he could not be quite definite until after 9th. For the A.-C.S. he would like to do something on the Borjas - something along the lines of "La cultura catalana a la cort dels Borges".

So there it is. Though he sounded quite encouraging, my private feeling is that it's still a toss-up. He is going to Madrid for at least a month at the end of May, but let me know if you want me to chase him up again if you have not heard from him by say 15th.

All the best.
