Dear Bryan,

I hope it is not altogether too late to ask to be allowed to attend the Annual Conference at Oxford. I have been intending to write since last July, but as I have spent most of the time sweating it out in Madrid, I have not managed to summon up the energy until now, the day before my departure for Bristol.

I should be very grateful if arrangements could be made - I shan't be able to attend the Hispanists' conference, so that I should arrive in Oxford on the 12th, and would leave on the 14th.

If it does prove possible to fix me up for the Conference, I shall look forward to seeing you there.

My regards to Russell-Gebbett.

Yours sincerely,

Ron Keightley
