Dear Geoff,

At the conference you asked me if I could read a paper at the Anglo-Catalan meeting + I was unsure because it was such short notice. However, if you really want me, I think I could provide one dealing with the activities of Vincent Blument - a Valencian Papal Collector who studied at Oxford in 1430's + spent some 30 yrs in England; acting also as ambassador between Henry VI, Edward IV + John II of Aragon + the various Popes. He may also be connected with problems surrounding origin of Trant to Blanc.

However, as Conference is in term time, it still remains to be seen whether I can get away, in which case I could not come before lunch on Friday. Does the meeting start on Friday evening?

Do you know who actually will be attending & what other papers there will be? I should like to know.

Hoping you had a pleasant journey to London,

All the best

Yours faithfully
John Tate
