Dear Alan

I have just had an invitation to contribute by the end of October (!) a chapter on 'The present position and future viability of minority languages' for a collective volume on The Future of Cultural Minorities in the Multicultural State. I'd like to say something about Catalan, but, of course, as the situation in Catalonia has changed so much in the last few months and is still changing, my information is all out-of-date. Is there any information at all you could provide me with - comments, documents, references - on the present position of the language in such fields as official recognition, education, the mass media? I should be most grateful for anything at all on these lines and, if there is any material you might be able to lend me, I should certainly return it very promptly.

With all good wishes,

Yours,

Glanville Price

I should have liked to attend the Ang/lab. Soc. do in London but don't think I'll be able to manage it. - I intended, by the way, to enclose my sub. with this but have just discovered I've left my cheque-book at home. I will follow

NO! I see it should go to G.S. Wheeler - so it shall!
